

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely German, on a small rectangular piece of paper pasted onto the left page of an open manuscript. The text is written in dark ink and includes several lines of script. The paper is slightly aged and shows some staining.

