

Two circular objects, possibly coins or seals, are shown side-by-side. They have a greenish patina and faint markings. The object on the left has a central cross-like shape. The object on the right has a central circular mark. Above them is a line of handwritten text in a cursive script.

