

A circular wooden box, likely a container for a relic, is shown. It has a thick, dark brown wooden rim. In the center is a circular red wax seal, which appears to have some embossed text or a design, though it is difficult to discern clearly. A yellow rope is tied around the box, with visible knots at the top and bottom.

[illegible]