This Guide is one of a series of finding aids describing the declassified seized German records deposited in the National Archives. The series was initiated by the Microfilming Project of the Committee for the Study of War Documents of the American Historical Association in cooperation with the National Archives and the Department of the Army. With the termination of the Microfilming Project in July 1963, the National Archives assumed sole responsibility for the reproduction of records and the preparation of Guides.

This is one of a number of Guides describing the records of the German Army field commands. These records fall into five categories: Records of Army Groups, Records of Armies, Records of Corps, Records of Divisions, and Occupational and Other Records.

This Guide, which constitutes Part II of records of the army groups, describes the contents of 119 rolls of microfilm reproducing the records of Army Groups E, F, Center, and Don, a large portion of the records of Army Group South, and small amounts of those of Army Groups B, C, D, and North which were not included in Part I (Guide No. 40) because they were still security classified or otherwise not available at the time Part I was issued. Part II includes material on the campaigns in Poland and in the West, 1939-40, the occupation of France and other areas in the West, the campaign against the Soviet Union, 1941-45, military operations and occupational duty in the Balkans and in Italy, the campaign in the West, 1944-45, and the defense of the Reich.

The provenance to which the documents are attributed is the army headquarters that originally kept the file, although a large proportion of the items had in fact been retired by the units to the Heeresarchiv Potsdam for permanent retention. There an accession number was stamped or written on the cover, and it is by this numbering system that the folders were organized in the World War II Records Division and its predecessor, the Departmental Records Branch of the Department of the Army, which offices administered the records before the assumption of these duties by the Archival Projects Division, Office of Military Archives. All folders accessioned by the Heeresarchiv were assigned numbers in sequence and logged in by unit in the so-called Potsdam Catalog. All such folders bear numbers below 75000. Folders that had not gone through the Heeresarchiv accessioning process before capture or had never been retired to the Heeresarchiv were given folder numbers in an extension of the Heeresarchiv system using numbers above 75000, but otherwise following the Potsdam pattern. Considerable information on the fate of all German military records during World War II, including information on several destructive fires and subsequent efforts to reconstruct records that were burned, may be found in the files of the Chef des Heeresarchivs in the German Army High Command. (These records were filmed as Microcopy No. T-78, Rolls 1-38, and are described in Guide No. 12 of this series.)

The descriptive material for the army groups was prepared on cards and each card has been filmed before the folder it describes. The cards for all folders on one roll of film are also filmed at the beginning of that roll. This Guide contains the text of the cards.

A short unit history and an organization index by staff section (Abteilung) precede the file item listing for each army group. The unit history has also been filmed at the beginning of each roll of the unit's records.

The term "Roll" in the Guide refers to the sequence of the film. "1st Frame" gives the frame number of the first page of the folder. The "Item No." is the identification symbol on the original folder. The "Item" provides (a) the abbreviation of the staff section that originated the document and (b) the title appearing on the folder cover or other information providing a general idea of the contents of the item.

The original records have been returned to the Federal Republic of Germany. The microfilm has been deposited as Microcopy T-311 with the Exhibits and Publications Division of the National Archives, Washington, D.C. 20408. The microfilm may be consulted in the National Archives or copies may be ordered. A price list will be found at the end of the Guide.

The descriptions were prepared by Anton F. Grassl and Ignaz Ernst under the supervision of Donald E. Spencer. Petronilla Hawes prepared the organization indexes and the stencils.

Heeresgruppe B (Army Group B)

Army Group B was formed from the prior Army Group North on October 5, 1939, and was placed in the West until September 1940 when it was moved, after a short stay in Germany, to the German-Soviet border area in occupied Poland. On April 1, 1941, it was renamed Army Group Center. Army Group South was designated Army Group B in July 1942 and controlled the armies advancing in the region between Stalingrad and Kursk. Disbanded in February 1943 it was re-formed in May 1943 as OKW-Auffrischungsstab Rommel. In July 1943 it was reorganized as Army Group B and was located in south Germany, the Balkans, north Italy, and France. The Army Group was charged with control of anti-invasion forces along the Channel coast and was commanded by Gen. Erwin Rommel until July 1944. Field Marshal Guenter von Kluge took it over for a short time and from August 18, 1944, until the capitulation it was under Field Marshal Walter Model. Army Group B took part in operations in France and controlled the Ardennes counteroffensive.*

Heeresgruppe C (Army Group C)

Army Group C was activated on September 3, 1939, under the command of Field Marshal (then General) Wilhelm Ritter von Leeb. The army group was stationed in the West until July 1940, when it was transferred to Germany. On April 1, 1941, it was re-designated Army Group North. Army Group C was re-established on July 26, 1943, under the command of Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, and was at the same time known as Theater Command South (Oberbefehlshaber Süd). On November 21, 1943, this designation was changed to Theater Command Southwest (Oberbefehlshaber Südwest). It controlled all German forces in Italy, where it remained until the capitulation in May 1945.*

Heeresgruppe D (Army Group D)

Army Group D was formed on October 25, 1940, and was commanded by Field Marshal Erwin von Witzleben. Comprising the First, Sixth, and Seventh Armies at the time of activation, it was located in occupied France and adjoining areas. Known also as Army Group Command D and as Army Group West, it was combined with Theater Command West (Oberbefehlshaber West) on March 15, 1941, to control occupied France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and the Channel Islands. Field Marshal Gerd von Rundstedt became commander on March 1, 1942. On July 7, 1944, Field Marshal Günther von Kluge was placed in command of the Army Group. He was replaced by Field Marshal Walter Model on August 17, 1944. Field Marshal von Rundstedt again became commander on September 5, 1944. The Army Group was disbanded on September 10, with Theater Command West under von Rundstedt absorbing its functions.

Heeresgruppe E (Army Group E)

Army Group E was formed in the Balkans on January 1, 1943, from the prior Military Command Southeast (Wehrmachtbefehlshaber Südost) and by the expansion of the Twelfth Army (AOK 12). It was at the same time Theater Command Southeast (Oberbefehlshaber Südost) until August 26, 1943, and again from March 25 to April 22, 1945.

Army Group E controlled German and some Bulgarian units in the Aegean area. General Alexander Loehr was commander. Late in 1944 the Army Group withdrew from the southern Balkans and extended its control north to the area between the Drava and the Sava. From April 22 until the capitulation on May 8, 1945, it was subordinate to Theater Command South (Oberbefehlshaber Süd).

Heeresgruppe Nord (Army Group North)

Army Group North was established on September 1, 1939, from the former Army Group 2 for the Polish campaign under the command of Field Marshal Fedor von Bock. Records of Army Group 2 dating from 1936 to 1939 are included in the series. In early October 1939, Army Group North was redesignated Army Group B and was sent to the western front. On April 1, 1941, the former Army Group C was redesignated Army Group North. Under the command of Field Marshal Wilhelm Ritter von Leeb, it assembled along the northern border of East Prussia and was poised for the invasion of Russian-held Lithuania and Latvia. The units of Army Group North spearheaded the drive through the Baltic area toward Leningrad and northern Russia. On January 25, 1945, the Army Group was redesignated Army Group Kur-land. On the same day Army Group Center was renamed Army Group North. This army group was disbanded on April 2, 1945, and its staff was transferred to the 12th Army (AOK 12).*

* The greater part of the records of Army Group North are described in Guide No. 40, Army Groups (Part I).

On September 1, 1939, Army Group North, a predecessor of Army Group Center, was formed from the previous Army Group 2 for the Polish campaign. It was under the command of Field Marshal Fedor von Bock. Following the campaign in Poland, on October 5, 1939, Army Group North was redesignated Army Group B and was transferred to the western front, where it participated in the western campaign. It returned through Germany to occupied Poland in September 1940, and was renamed Army Group Center on April 1, 1941, in preparation for the attack on the Soviet Union. It fought in the central sector of the eastern front beginning in June 1941 and controlled the armies charged with the mission of capturing Moscow. After the armies were stopped short of Moscow in the late fall of 1941, the Army Group was engaged in holding actions and defensive operations until 1943, when it opened a major offensive drive toward Kursk in July of that year. This drive was broken by the Soviet counteroffensive in the direction of Orel. In July 1944, during the Soviet summer offensive, the Army Group fell back from the Vitebsk-Mogilev area, and from late summer until early in 1945 it was responsible for the defense of East Prussia and the Warsaw area. On January 25, 1945, it was redesignated Army Group North, and on the same day Army Group A was renamed Army Group Center. This new Army Group Center, under the command of Field Marshal Ferdinand Schoerner, was disbanded on May 8, 1945.

Heeresgruppe Süd (Army Group South)

Army Group South was formed on September 1, 1939, for the Polish campaign under the command of General (later Field Marshal) Gerd von Rundstedt. In October 1939, Army Group South also became Theater Command East (Oberbefehlshaber Ost). On October 20, 1939, the Army Group was redesignated Army Group A. It was renamed Army Group South on April 1, 1941, and moved into Rumania. It controlled the German and Rumanian armies, with Italian and Hungarian elements, which freed Bessarabia of Soviet control following the opening of the Russian campaign in June 1941 and advanced into the Ukraine and the northern Caucasus. On July 15, 1942, the name was changed to Army Group B. The former Army Group Don was redesignated Army Group South on February 14, 1943, under the command of Field Marshal Erich von Manstein. It withdrew to the Crimea during the Soviet offensive of the following winter and later to the lower Dniester area. On March 30, 1944, it was renamed Army Group North Ukraine. The former Army Group South Ukraine was redesignated Army Group South on September 20, 1944, under the command of General Johannes Friessner. It then withdrew through Rumania into Hungary. From April 22, 1945, it was subordinate to Theater Command South (Oberbefehlshaber Süd). It was disbanded on May 8, 1945.*
